

A Letter To God

It's a story about ones faith in God and existence of humanity and kindness

Lencho, a simpleton farmer faced loss due to hailstorm but was optimistic that God would help him

He wrote a letter to GOD asking for hundred pesos to sow new seeds and make his both ends meet & dropped it in the mail box

The letter was shown to the postmaster by a postman

To keep Leencho's faith in GOD intact , he came up with an idea.....

He himself contributed the money, seeked help from the employees & his acquaintances & could arrange seventy pesos, kept them in the envelop and signed it as God

Lencho came, opened the envelop, found thirty pesos less, became angry but believed GOD couldn't do mistake hence wrote another letter

Requested to send remaining pesos BUT not through the mail and ironically called the employees as BUNCH OF CROOKS
